Andreas Syggros University Hospital

Client: Hellenic Society of Dermatology and Venereology

The Hospital "Andreas Syggros" is located in Central Athens and is housed in a complex of several old buildings which are designated listed buildings.

BETAPLAN has carried out the design for the modernization and rearrangement of several departments of the Hospital (1990), in line with the recommendations of the Master Plan, executed also by BETAPLAN. The most recent design studies include:
o Rearrangement of a Nursing Unit (1993)
o Detailed Architectural Design for the Rearrangement of the Historic Museum of Wax Replicas of the Hospital. with a budget of 623,287 EUR. The design comprised works of preservation and restoration of the existing 100 year-old building, the addition of new steel structure mezzanines and the preservation and rearrangement of the existing old wooden showcases. (2007-2008).
